IN NATURAL AREAS

- Protect the natural environment and act in harmony with nature.
- Do not harm plants or animals; preserve natural habitats.
- Dispose of your waste in bins or recycling containers; do not leave it in nature.
- Avoid making noise; respect the peace and quiet of nature and its creatures.
- Do not light fires; this can be dangerous in high-risk areas.
- Use designated walking paths; avoid stepping on vegetation.
- Do not pollute water sources or use detergents and chemicals.
- Keep your pets under control.
- Do not collect plants, stones, or natural objects.
- Take only photographs, leave only footprints.

IN CULTURAL AREAS

- Cultural heritage is a bridge between the past and the future. Every historical building, museum, or site you visit is part of this heritage.
- Do not touch or write on historical buildings, monuments, or artifacts.
- Follow photography rules and warnings.
- Stay quiet and respectful, especially during guided tours or in enclosed areas.
- Do not consume food or drinks; it is often prohibited.
- Follow all directional and informational signs.
- Respect local people and traditions; ask permission before taking photos.
- Avoid any behavior that could damage cultural values.
- Trust and follow the instructions given by authorized staff.
- Respect visiting hours and entry rules.
- Preserving cultural heritage for future generations is everyone's responsibility.

IN PLACES OF WORSHIP

- Places of worship are important both spiritually and culturally.
- Showing respect for all beliefs and practices is a universal responsibility.
- Remain quiet and do not disturb those praying.
- Dress appropriately; cover shoulders, knees, and head when required.
- Leave your shoes in the designated area.
- Ask permission before taking photos or videos.
- Do not touch sacred objects, furniture, or structures.
- Do not eat or drink in worship areas.
- Respect religious rituals; speak softly.
- Follow the guidance of staff or guides.
